Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. The script is dense and fills most of the page, with some lines showing signs of fading or wear. The text appears to be a continuous narrative or record, possibly related to a legal or administrative matter, given the formal nature of the handwriting and the structure of the lines. There are some small, dark spots or stains on the paper, particularly in the center and towards the right side, which may be due to age or handling. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but aged historical document.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance and that it has not been completely solved. The author then proceeds to a detailed analysis of the problem.
 2. In the second part, the author considers the case of a particular value of the parameter. It is shown that in this case the problem can be solved exactly. The author then discusses the results of the calculation and compares them with the results of other authors.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a single column across approximately 10 lines. The script is dense and flowing, with many loops and flourishes. The paper is aged and yellowed, with some visible staining and a small dark spot near the center. The text appears to be in a historical language, possibly a form of Arabic or Persian, given the style of the script and the use of certain characters like 'O' and 'Q' which are common in those languages. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but clearly old piece of paper.

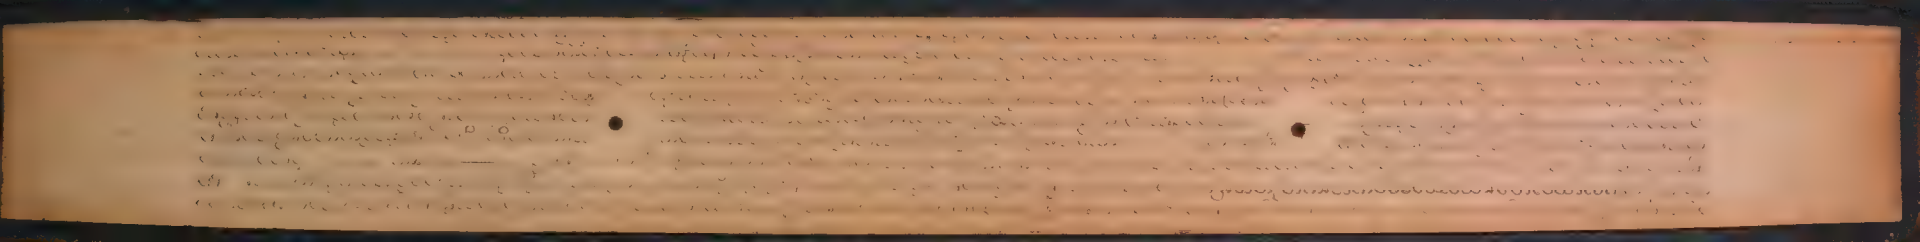

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is organized into several lines. The script is dense and flowing, characteristic of historical cursive. There are two prominent dark circular marks, possibly holes or ink blots, on the right side of the page. The text appears to be a continuous narrative or record, with some lines starting with capital letters or initials. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but aged historical document.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Persian or Urdu, spanning multiple lines across the page. The text is densely written and appears to be a continuous passage. The script is highly stylized and characteristic of the period. The text is written on a single sheet of paper with some visible texture and slight discoloration. There are two dark circular marks, possibly holes or ink blots, on the right side of the page. The overall appearance is that of an old manuscript or a personal letter.
